Student's Participation in LiFE (Lifestyle for Environment) Program of Government of India conducted by West Bengal Pollution Control Board on 7th September, 2023

West Bengal Pollution Control Board had organized a program to observe International day of clean air for Blue Skies on 7th September, 2023 at the Auditorium, Paribesh Bhawan, Bidhanagar, Kolkata. The objective was to create awareness at all level with large scale public participation in order to improve the air quality for a better and healthy air to breathe.

Since 2020 the West Bengal Pollution Control Board has been observing the International day of Clean Air for Blue Skies as part of the National Clean Air Programme (NCAP) launched by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, Govt. of India in January, 2019 for the improvement of Ambient Air Quality in 131 non-attainment cities including six cities in West Bengal.

Sixteen Post Graduate students, two Graduate students and two research scholars had attained the awareness program on 7th September, 2023 from Asutosh College, Kolkata. It is highly expected that the knowledge and awareness will help these students in future.

Brief of the event: Dengue is a viral disease transmitted to humans by the bite of infected Aedes mosquitoes. Mosquitoes breed in areas having even a small quantity of water, generally stagnant water. If one is bitten by an infected mosquito, symptoms like fever, fatigue, vomiting sensation, joint pain and muscle pain are manifested. Even death is possible.

As in previous years, Asutosh College has taken the initiative of organizing the Awareness program in all the college buildings and in areas surrounding the main campus of the college. On 26th September 2023 an NSS unit comprising the NSS coordinator, other members of staff as well as students of the college visited the Patuapara slum area in Bhowanipore, Kolkata, for implementation of our Dengue awareness programme. by talking to the residents, spreading bleaching powder in the garbage area, places with stagnant water etc.

A procession from the Main building to Patuaparawas conducted by NSS volunteers and teachers as part of the awareness programme on 26th September 2023. Our members did their job by spreading bleaching powder, cleaning, and organising a discussion on the subject.

Our NSS coordinator Dr.Parthasarathi Bera spoke with the residents there to advise them on good personal and community habits. They were advised not to allow water to remain stagnant near their houses, to regularly clean the blocked drains, the tray below the fridge, to dispose of old containers, mugs, buckets, tyres and also to keep the water tanks and water containers covered so that the mosquitoes cannot enter there and start breeding. The importance of cleaning the surroundings of a house was thoroughly discussed. We also asked whether they use mosquito nets or not as part of the program.

- Attendance Sheet:

- Brief Report About the Event/ Programme: Geography Department of Asutosh College in collaboration with IQAC, Asutosh College had organized an Alumni lecture series for the benefit of under-graduation and post-graduation students on 23rd February, 2024. Dr. Bera is an alumnus of Asutosh College. Presently, he is an Assistant Professor associated with Department of Geography, Sidhi Kanho Birsha University, Purulia, West Bengal. On that day topic for lecture was “Increasing Frequency and Risk of Landslides in Garhwal Himalaya with Special Reference to Recent Joshimath Devastation.” His knowledge over cartography, physical geography made students and faculties mesmerized. He beautifully established the relationship between Physical Geography and Human Geography, discussed sustainable recommendations on Joshimath, Uttarakand, India developmental plan. Mapping with modern methods and technologies with data collected from Joshimath field work is appreciable. Students gained the knowledge about the usage of modern tools, benefited by knowing the methodology used in research work and established that Geography worth the title of Earth Science.
- Expected Outcome: Devastation can be natural as well as man-made. Dr. Bera had described both the natural and man-made interrelationship in such a fragile part of the Earth. He encouraged students in research and academics and paper publications in future career.

BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT:

- Asutosh College, Department of Geography, had organized a Poster Competition in collaboration with IQAC on Fifteenth day of May, 2024. The participants were from two regular semesters studying under-graduation viz. second semester and fourth semester. The students were divided into different groups of 6-7 members guided by the mentors selected within the department. Students were asked to choose the topic for posters from the primary theme “Contemporary Issues in Natural and Anthropogenic Hazards”. The motive of this poster competition was to reach all students of different academic performance. This program was not only a healthy competition but also enabled students to expose their thoughts, arts and presentation about the subject on which they are specializing/ graduating. Geography is a practical based subject covering all possible knowledge about the nature, human and hazard relationship. Therefore, students had chosen variety of topics for their presentation, few examples of their topics are Pollution Impact on Human Health, Industrial Hazards and its Impact, Sociological and Technical Hazards and alike. There were around eighteen posters done by the students.

To encourage the mindset of competitiveness among students’ prizes were arranged by the department sponsored by the Principal’s Office, judged by faculties of other departments of the College. Judges had proposed their evaluation and honorable Principal Professor Manas Kabi had distributed the prizes among the students with certificate of participation.

- EXPECTED OUTCOME: A healthy competition enabled students to expose their thoughts, arts and presentation about the contemporary topic a specialised part of Geographical Studies. An exchange of ideas and thoughts among peer members helped students’ solidarity for Geography department.

Workshop on Gender Sensitization

Under the aegis of the Women Empowerment Cell (Gender Equity) and IQAC a one-day workshop-cum-seminar titled Nurturing Equality and Understanding Gender was organised on 27 September, 2023 in Room no 30. The main speaker of the workshop was Dr. Ritu Sen Chaudhuri, Professor of West Bengal State University and the Director of Centre for Social Theory. Faculty members from various departments of Asutosh College were present in the programme. About 80 students actively participated in this workshop. In a free-flowing discussion facilitated by the faculty members, students shared their experiences with some very bold and outspoken acknowledgements of their identity. Social labelling as man or woman was criticised by some of the students present who openly identified themselves as part of the LGBTQ community, while some spoke about their sexual orientations, which a hetero-normative society marks as 'deviant' or 'abnormal.' The right to choose partners as per one's sexual orientation was demanded by some. Short clippings of the Bell Bajao campaign to break the cycle of domestic violence were screened. Dr Sen Chaudhuri interacted with the students and pointed out that education coupled with awareness generation and sensitization programmes at all levels would bring about a change in the mindset.

BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME:

The Internal Complaints Committee (ICC), in collaboration with Debate Club and in association with IQAC, Asutosh College organized an Inter-Departmental Debate Competition on the topic "Women have an equal voice in today's society". Dr Chandramalli Sengupta, Associate Professor in Bengali and Sri Siddhartha Kar, Associate Professor in Sociology at Asutosh College acted as the judges of the debate competition. Dr Sraboni Ray, Associate Professor in English & IQAC coordinator addressed the event followed by an address from the Representative of the Debate Club- Dr Sanchita Sanyal, Assistant Professor in Political Science. The programme was judged by Dr. Chandramalli Sengupta, Associate Professor, Department of Bengali, Asutosh College and Sri Siddhartha Kar, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, Asutosh College.

The judges then touched upon the instructions of the competition followed by a brief introduction of the participants.

Students from various departments of the college participated in the event. The participants were judged based on their knowledge, logical reasoning and presentation skills. A total of eight students participated in the competition, out of which four participants spoke 'for the motion' and four participants spoke 'against the motion'. Anushka Roy secured the first position after debating 'for the motion' and Disha Lal debated 'against the motion' and secured the first position. Team 2 comprising Arakshita Saha and Disha Lal emerged as the Best Team of the event. A vote of thanks was given by the convenors of the programme - Dr Rina Kar Dutta, Associate Professor in Philosophy and Dr Maniparna Syam Roy, Assistant Professor in Economics.

EXPECTED OUTCOME:

- Help the students develop critical thinking and communication skills through analyzing various perspectives and articulating well-reasoned arguments.
- Expose students to diverse viewpoints, encouraging appreciation of differing opinions and informed decision-making.
- Boost the confidence and leadership skills of the students by engaging in public speaking, quick thinking, and effective assertion of positions.

➤ BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME:

Title: The Portrayal of Women in Society and Literature: Insights from the Mahabharata and 19th Century Female Theatre Actors

Introduction:

The portrayal of women in society and literature has been a topic of interest and debate for centuries. This report aims to explore the representation of women in two distinct contexts: the ancient Indian epic Mahabharata and the world of 19th-century female theatre actors. By examining these sources, we can gain valuable insights into how women have been depicted and perceived in different cultural and historical settings.

Portrayal of Women in the Mahabharata:

The Mahabharata, one of the most revered texts in Hindu mythology, offers a complex and multifaceted portrayal of women. Characters like Draupadi and Kunti are depicted as strong, intelligent, and influential figures who play pivotal roles in shaping the epic narrative. Draupadi, in particular, is known for her resilience, courage, and unwavering sense of justice. Despite facing numerous challenges and injustices, she emerges as a symbol of female empowerment and agency in a patriarchal society.

Portrayal of 19th Century Female Theatre Actors:

In the 19th century, female theatre actors faced unique challenges and opportunities in the male-dominated world of performing arts. These women often defied societal norms by pursuing careers on stage, where they showcased their talent, creativity, and resilience. Through their performances, female theatre actors challenged traditional gender roles and stereotypes, offering audiences a new perspective on women's capabilities and aspirations. These actors played a crucial role in shaping public perceptions of women's roles in society and paving the way for greater gender equality in the arts.

EXPECTED OUTCOME: The portrayal of women in society and literature can have a significant impact on how they are perceived and treated. In the case of the Mahabharata, women are often depicted as strong and influential figures, such as Draupadi and Kunti, who play crucial roles in shaping the narrative. This can lead to a more empowered view of women in society.

Similarly, in the context of 19th-century female theatre actors, their portrayal on stage could challenge traditional gender roles and stereotypes, showcasing women as capable and talented individuals. This could potentially inspire real-life women to pursue their passions and break free from societal constraints.

Overall, by portraying women in a positive and empowering light in both society and literature, we can work towards creating a more inclusive and equitable world for all individuals.

A One Day National Seminar on ““LIVING MORALLY: PHILOSOPHICAL EXPLORATIONS IN BUDDHIST ETHICS” Organised by Department of Philosophy, Asutosh College in collaboration with Department of Philosophy, University of Calcutta in association with IQAC, Asutosh College. The inaugural session began by the welcome speech delivered by Dr. Chandrima Bhar, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Asutosh College. Dr. Sraboni Roy, IQAC Co-ordinator, Asutosh College highlighted the significance of the World Philosophy Day and also explained the necessity of discussing Buddhist Ethical principles and teachings in the present disturbed scenario. Head of the Department, Dr. Saswati De Mondal, in her speech on the theme of the Seminar specially mentioned the relevance of discussing Buddhist Ethics in the present context. Head of the Department of Philosophy, University of Calcutta, Dr. Pralayankar Bhattacharya, brought into light the significance of Buddhist moral values through comparative analyses of the moral values of the other Classical Indian philosophical systems. The key note address was given by Dr. Amit Bhattacharya, Professor, Department of Comparative Indian Language and Literature, University of Calcutta. There were three academic sessions that dealt with varying aspects of the seminar. Dean, Heads of the Departments of other colleges and Universities, Faculty members from other colleges and Universities, Research scholars and students from Asutosh College as well as from the other colleges and Universities attended the seminar with great enthusiasms. Almost 65 participants attended offline and several other participants attended online, since the day-long programme was screened live through Google Meet and You-tube. The programme wrapped up around 5 PM. The day long programme came to end with the Valedictory Session conducted by Dr. Rina Kar Dutta, Associate Professor, Department of Philosophy.

Objective of the Programme: The National Seminar was organised to explore the relevance, in the modern scenario, of moral values taught by the Buddhist Ethical theories and to inculcate the students with these values. The seminar was specially organized to disseminate the classical Indian values among the students, research scholars and faculty members so that they may also have a glimpse of the rich cultural heritage of India. The seminar was made a common platform for sharing moral values with the Spoke Colleges and the MOU Colleges of Asutosh College, besides so many other colleges. The Department of Philosophy, Asutosh College, made sincere efforts to reach out to the interested participants near and far and the entire programme was screened live through YouTube and Google Meet.

- TARGET AUDIENCE/ PARTICIPANTS: Students

BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME: A motivational talk was arranged for student's welfare that was attended by students of both hub centre and seven spoke colleges. The seminar was divided into four unique sessions where the audience was enlightened by three distinguished speakers.

Session 1: Swami Tatparanandaji Maharaj –

Swami Tatparanandaji Maharaj, the coordinator of Ramkrishna Mission Vidyalaya enlightened the audience on the the 'Resources of Wellbeing'. Swamiji emphasised on the wellbeing of our inner self. In a world full of constant competition and comparison of oneself with others in every aspect it is extremely important to understand that we are the makers of our own destiny. We are always in the search of happiness, however happiness is not defined by what someone else thinks it to be, rather it is only us who can actually determine the meaning and depth of one's own happiness. He focussed on the significance of controlling our senses and practice of 'tapasya' to achieve our goals.

Session 2: Dr. Sujit Roy –

Dr. Sujit Roy, General Physician, Merryland Nursing Home, discussed in details about the importance of health awareness. He stressed on the problems associated with cigarette smoking and the harmful effects of nicotine, our heart, kidney and how brain too gets effected. His speech also emphasised on the negative effects of carbon monoxide and how it raises the risk of lung cancer. He discussed how simple habits such as regular use of handwash and good food intake can help us lead a disease-free life.

Session 3: Dr. Dipankar Mukherjee

Dr. Dipankar Mukherjee, BHR University Hospitals NHS Trust, London, U.K, gave a a powerful speech on the topic – ‘Mental health and well-being challenges of young adults. What can we do now?’ In a life that is a quest for perfection, we all want to be perfect but we all cannot be one. He focussed on the opening up on mental health and accepting it if we face any. Constant fear of what people might say, the fear of social taboo leads to self-harm so we need to call it out. The race towards achievement creates an immense pressure amongst students. The society is still highly judgemental. So, we need to engage in positive activities, to be in the moment, to be kind to oneself, to allow imperfections, reward oneself and have a sense of purpose.

Session 4: Shibayan Ganguly

Shibayan Ganguly, a Clinical Dietician, had an extremely informative session on ‘The Essential Acupressure Points for Emergency Situations’. The basic knowledge of what should be done in a situation of emergency before we receive medical help was well-explained and demonstrated. Such as a person who is suddenly feeling extremely depressed should try to control his emotions as our emotional mind hijacks our intellectual mind. He stressed on the importance of knowing one’s own red flags, understanding our health better so that help can be received on time.

➤ EXPECTED OUTCOME:

Overall, a motivational talk for students can have a profound impact on their attitudes, behaviours, and outlook on life, helping them unlock their full potential and pursue their dreams with passion and determination.

- 5) Dr. Aditi Das (Joint Event Organizer),
- 6) Participants - Students of Semester 1, 3 & 5 (Physics Honours).

YouTube Link - No. It's an offline initiative.

Brief summary of the event:

The event presided by Prof. Tathagata Roy Chowdhury, Department of Botany, Asutosh College initiated by the welcome note. Importance of new industry-oriented job perspective, the inter-personal relationship skills and the pathway to remain important and profitable (and thus hireable) in an industrial setup, as well as the role of being a successful entrepreneur were highlighted. The invited speaker, who was an alumnus of the Department's 2001 Batch and batchmate of Prof. Surjya Sarathi Bhattacharyya was introduced to the audience by Prof. Amit Kumar Bhattacharjee. The event was anchored and the Vote of Thanks were also delivered by Prof. Amit Kumar Bhattacharjee. Around 75 students of the Physics Department participated in the event. The program initiated via a direct student-speaker interaction about career and pathway beyond the domain of Physics. The main take home message was to identify few human qualities and traits using which a person can remain useful between product (and team workers delivering the same) and client to become a very successful entrepreneur. An example from the Pharmaceutical world were demonstrated as an example. We expect such phenomenal international exposure of alumnus from industry who had been working as a successful entrepreneur may help shape the future of many students, who wish to explore such opportunities at an International platform in the challenging World of today, where academic jobs as well as Government funded jobs are way too limited.

A few memories of the day are attached.

Welcoming the Speaker and the greeting with flowers were delivered by Ms. Nupur Sarkar, our Vth Semester Student.

- SPEAKER/S / RESOURCE PERSON/S: Abhishek Biswas, the Founder of U'Vaa & Auth'n
(for the Cultural Confluence segment)
- TARGET AUDIENCE/ PARTICIPANTS: Faculty members and students of Asutosh College and its spoke colleges
- BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME:

The MUKTODHARA-2024 event, organised by Asutosh College Cultural Unit, Entrepreneurship Cell, Asutosh College Hub Centre, and Placement Cell, in association with the IQAC & Asutosh College Students' Union, was a resounding success, showcasing a diverse range of activities and performances that captivated the audience throughout the day.

The event kicked off with an energetic inaugural song and lighting of lamp by Dr. Rina Kar Dutta, Dr. Sayani Mukhopadhyay, Dr. Sraboni Roy, Dr. Krishna Basu, Dr. Keya Ghosh, and Dr. Supriyo Das. This was followed by a series of cultural performances by both students and faculty members of Asutosh College, highlighting the talent and creativity within the institution.

One of the highlights of the event was the session on "Entrepreneurship in Bengal: Journey of Startups" by Abhishek Biswas, the Founder of U'Vaa & Auth'n. His insights into the world of startups and entrepreneurship provided valuable knowledge to the attendees.

The Cultural Confluence segment brought together Asutosh College Hub Centre and its Spoke Colleges, including Heramba Chandra College, Netaji Nagar Day College, Naba Ballygunge Mahavidyalaya, Syamaprasad College, Harimohan Ghosh College, Panchur College, and Government Girls' General Degree College, Ekbalpur, fostering collaboration and unity among different educational institutions. This was a great opportunity for students to showcase their talents, as well as interact and learn from each other.

The Career Guidance & Awareness Programme on Government Jobs by the National Vocational Academy of India (run by Shikshalight Education Research Foundation) was a valuable addition to the event, offering students important information and insights into career opportunities in the government sector.

The students also received hands-on training for using the Asutosh College students' app. This was followed by a speech by Dr. Manas Kabi, Principal of Asutosh College.

The day was filled with musical performances by talented bands and artists, including performances by Archik and Prithibi bands that left the audience mesmerised.

Overall, MUKTODHARA-2024 was a well-organised and engaging event that not only entertained but also educated and inspired the attendees. It served as a platform for students to showcase their talents, learn from industry experts, and explore various career opportunities.

- EXPECTED OUTCOMES:

1. Increased awareness and appreciation of cultural diversity among students and faculty.
2. Enhanced knowledge and motivation towards entrepreneurship and startup ventures.
3. Strengthened relationships and partnerships between Asutosh College and its spoke colleges.
4. Improved understanding of career options in the government sector among students.
5. Enhanced student skills in event organisation, performance, and leadership.
6. A sense of pride and belonging within the college community.
7. Exploration of interests and talents of students beyond academics.
8. Appropriate training of students for using the Asutosh College Students' app.
9. Celebration of the diverse cultural heritage and talents present within the college community.

TITLE OF EVENT: One-Day National Seminar on Entrepreneurship, Innovation & Start-up Ecosystems

THEME OF THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME: Entrepreneurship building and innovative idea generation for Start-ups

DATE: March 13, 2024

VENUE: Seminar Hall, Centenary Building, Asutosh College

COLLABORATOR/S (IF ANY):

Department of Communicative English in association with IQAC and Entrepreneurship Cell, Asutosh College.

OBJECTIVE/ PURPOSE:

To provide insights into effective entrepreneurship development, innovative strategies for Start-ups and honing the skills and techniques for professionals and students interested in the field.

SPEAKER/S / RESOURCE PERSON/S:

Dr. Mala Dasgupta Sengupta, the founder of Anubhav-Experience-English is Fun (A.E.E.I.F.) and Rahul Basak, the founder and CEO of Amar Canvas.

TARGET AUDIENCE/ PARTICIPANTS:

Students, professionals, and individuals interested in enhancing their skills on entrepreneurship development and mastering the innovative strategies for Start-ups.

BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME:

The seminar was graced by the presence of Dr. Mala Dasgupta Sengupta, the founder of Anubhav-Experience-English is Fun (A.E.E.I.F.), whose presentation on the topic of “Edupreneural Trek: Hiking the way uphill” took the attendees on a trek to the mountains of edupreneurship. Her journey to the top was one with which the attendees could deeply connect. Dasgupta delved into several strategies of start-ups: idea generation & validation, business planning, resource, acquisition, product/service development, marketing and sales, operations and growth. She inspired the students by giving real world examples and motivated them for turning start-ups into successful business.

Sri Rahul Basak, the founder and CEO of Amar Canvas, illuminated the importance of teamwork in the making of a company and entrepreneurial ecosystems. His shared personal anecdotes and experiences with the attendees proved to be perspective-changing. Basak highlighted the keys to entrepreneurial success, also shedding light on the challenges faced by startups, that can be overcome through hard work, creativity, and a willingness to adapt and pivot as needed.

The sessions also included interactive Q&A sessions where participants could clarify doubts and seek further insights from the speakers. Overall, the seminar provided valuable guidance and practical tips for enthusiasts of entrepreneurship and start-ups to enhance their skills and achieve better results in their respective roles.

EXPECTED OUTCOME:

The expected outcome of the webinar was to imbibe participants with the knowledge and strategies necessary to develop their entrepreneurship skills and execute effective marketing strategies, thereby intensifying their professional capabilities in the start-up ecosystem. The seminar proved to be an excellent opportunity for educating, inspiring and fostering a knack for entrepreneurship in the minds of tomorrow
