An International Seminar titled “Myriad Facets of India’s Partition: Intertwining Social Sciences and Literature” was organised on May 3, 2024 at the Centenary Building, Asutosh College, Kolkata. The seminar was jointly organised by the Departments of English and History in association with Internal Quality Assessment Cell and Hub Centre, Asutosh College in collaboration with the departments of English and History, Syamaprasad College and Harimohan Ghose College.

The event began with our respected Principal Sir’s opening address, where he conveyed his joy over the overall arrangements for the seminar. He further emphasised the importance of seminars and the heritage of our college. His opening speech was followed by the introductory address by the IQAC co-ordinator, Dr. Sraboni Roy. Felicitation of the speakers was done by the teaching staff of our college. Dr. Subhasri Ghosh, the joint-convener of the seminar, gave her speech by introducing the theme of the event.

The day was also special because our Principal, Dr. Manas Kabi, completed a very successful year in office. He graced the occasion with his presence, personally addressing all the eminent speakers and other guests in his unique and inimitable style. Our gratitude to him also for encouraging us and facilitating the organising of this seminar.

Dr. Binayak Dutta, Associate Professor in History at NEHU, Dr. Aparna Lanjewar Bose, Professor in English at EFLU, who participated online from Hyderabad, Dr. Nandini Saha, Professor in English at JU, and Ms. Amrita Dasgupta, Ph.D. candidate at SOAS (UK), and Guest Faculty at LSE, shared their thoughts on the nation’s partition from different perspectives in two very thought-provoking sessions. Students of the departments of English and History and faculty members were greatly enriched by the experience.
