Report

Constitutional Provisions & Legal Safeguards: Indian Women's Journey Towards Equality

On November 22, 2022, the Internal Complaints Committee of Asutosh College conducted an interactive session in association with IQAC. Constitutional Provisions & Legal Safeguards: Indian Women's Journey Towards Equality was the topic of the event. The main college building is where the interactive lecture session was planned. The speaker was Dr. Aparna Bandyopadhyay, Associate Professor of History, Diamond Harbor Women's University. The talk began with Dr. Maniparna Syam Roy, an Assistant Professor of Economics, introducing the guest.

Dr. Bandyopadhyay started the discussion by referring to various constitutional provisions that provide equal status to men and women. She also cited various contemporary incidents that reflect patriarchy, domestic violence, violence at the workplace, etc. She inspired the participants comprising students from different departments of the college to share their experiences. The participation and questions raised by the students and other faculty members made the session lively. The vote of thanks was given by Dr. Priyanka Roy Assistant Professor of Economics.
