His Area of expertise includes implementing chemical programs targeted to meet customers Key Business drivers. These include Improving Asset Reliability, Profitability and Sustainability. He was the co-author for the published Paper in PTQ in Feb-23 “Desalting chemistry and monitoring methods to help expand crude basket”. He also presented in Chemical Engineering symposium 2022 held in Rajabazar Science College on the subject “Recircular Economy on Sustainable basis”

The students were very much encouraged to raise their queries during the entire session and clear their doubts.

➤ EXPECTED OUTCOME:

Distinctive characteristics among humans are extroverts and introverts. In work place there is a belief among some people that extroverts are mostly successful and it's a desired character to excel in life. The lecture was delivered by sighting example of both introverts and extroverts who excelled in their respective fields of sports, politics, and Industries. It was conveyed that to excel in life, personality characteristic type extrovert and introvert does not play any role, it's the passion, dedication, attitude and skill which helps to excel.

The concept of dreaming big was also explained in the lecture. As per the author, dreaming big means to have a long-term vision, like to work for the community betterment, innovate new molecules for affordable treatment if terminal disease etc. Several examples including from the field of sports, science was explained who demonstrated exemplary achievements inspite of hardships during their growing up. The author also encouraged the students to have a long-term vision for life and to dream big.
