One-Day Seminar
On ONLY ONE EARTH

Organized by: -
DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

in association with
IQAC, ASUTOSH COLLEGE

7th June, 2022

01:00 PM

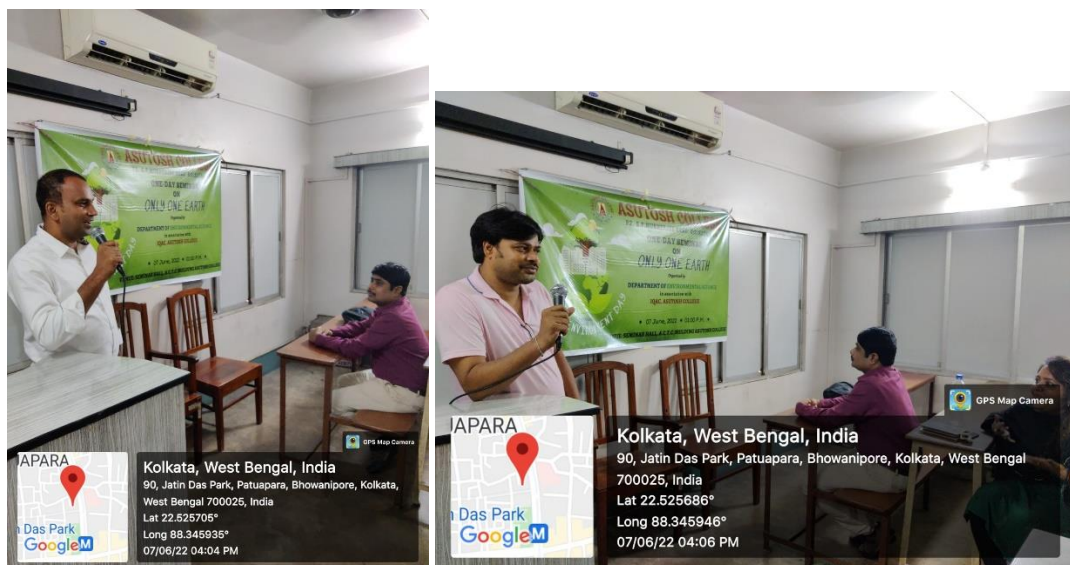

Objectives of the seminar: -

Celebrating the 49th ENVIRONMENT DAY (5th June 2022) on the theme of "ONLY ONE EARTH" mirroring 1st world environment day held in 1974 Spokane US. The seminar's aim was to spread concern among the students about the current "Triple Planetary crisis", we are consuming 1.7 planets a year. But we have Only one earth and we have to accept it. The actions that are already taken by us is not enough to protect it. It is our responsibility to restore nature to its full glory. We have to transform our food systems. We have to make our cities green. It's our goal to look up for a sustainable future without the fossil fuels plastics. We have to heal our mother nature; we have to take enough care of her because we have "ONLY ONE EARTH"

Programme details: Our Chief Guest for the day, Dr. Sajal Bhattacharya, Associate Professor of Department of Zoology (Convenor, PG Board of Studies, Asutosh College) delivered the inaugural speech of the seminar and enlightened all of us with his knowledge. Dr. Manas Kabi, Bursar of our college also inspired the students and faculty members highlighting the significant scope and prospects of studying environmental science.

The faculty members of the Environment gave lectures on various aspects keeping in mind the theme of the World Environment Day, 2022- ‘Living sustainably in Harmony with Nature’.
