

Alumni Lecture Series

Dr. Ashis Kumar Paul

Professor Department of Geography

On 15th September, 2023.

Geography Department of Asutosh College In collaboration with IQAC Asutosh College had organized an Alumni lecture for the benefit of under-graduation and post- graduation students on 15th September month, 2023. He is an alumnus, ex-faculty, of Asutosh College who served from 1990 to 2005. Presently, he is associated with Department of Geography, Vidyasagar University since 2005. His precious basket of knowledge over Sundarban Mangroves had helped students of the department to fall in love with Sundarban region of Bengal Deltaic plain.

On that day his topic of seminar lecture was “Mangrove Plantation for Resilient Sundarban.” He had thoroughly projected Sundarban region of West Bengal and Bangladesh to understand Sundarban of Bengal Delta. His vast knowledge about relationship among flora-fauna-climate change and sea-level change is magnificent. A two hours seminar lecture was insufficient to sum up his forty years of research experience. Students interacted with him and faculties were also enriched and rejuvenated by his marvelous lecture. It was a lucid, lively and informative seminar for faculties and UG and PG students of Geography Department.
