- BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME: The Student Seminar for PG SEM-II students of Geography was held on 2nd May April 2025 in the Lab 1, 3rd floor of Asutosh College, as part of the 2024-2025 academic session. The event aimed to train students in open classroom interaction, enabling them to express their views and learn formal speaking and PowerPoint presentation techniques. The seminar featured Dr. Sayani Mukhopadhyay, Dr. Sourav Das, Sri Debabrata Chanda, Dr. Swapan Talukdar as programme coordinators, who provided valuable insights and facilitated discussions. The target audience included PG SEM-II students and research scholars from the department, who actively participated in the seminar, contributing to a vibrant academic exchange. The interaction fostered a collaborative learning environment, enhancing students' presentation skills and their understanding of regional planning concepts.
- EXPECTED OUTCOME: The student seminar on regional planning successfully achieved its objectives, with participants demonstrating significant improvements in their presentation and formal speaking skills. Students showcased their ability to articulate complex geographical concepts effectively and utilized advanced PowerPoint techniques to enhance their presentations. The interactive nature of the seminar fostered a collaborative learning environment, encouraging open dialogue and critical thinking. Feedback from both students and resource persons, Dr. Sayani Mukhopadhyay and Dr. Swapan Talukdar, highlighted the seminar's effectiveness in boosting students' confidence and readiness for academic and professional engagements.
