

Lecture Series

Dr. Sunil Kumar De

Professor, Department of Geography, North Eastern Hill University (NEHU), Shillong

President, International Association of Geomorphologists (IAG/AIG)

Post-Graduate Department of Geography in collaboration with IQAC and committee for Post-Graduate Studies, Asutosh College had arranged a lecture on “How to Write Good Scientific Paper in Geography?” delivered by Professor Sunil Kumar De. This topic was chosen for the benefit of Post Graduation students of our department. In academic, preparing oneself for research paper writing and presentation need accurate and up to-date guidance so that the paper must add some value to the subject- Geography. Both Faculty members and students of the department were enriched by the speaker. Professor De had vast knowledge about field work research and representing the work in an organized manner. He has discussed all the norms and techniques of writing a research paper with significance. As Geographical research is a field- based subject where acquiring first hand data base and knowledge is compulsory; Professor De has explained each attribute for writing a well constructed research paper thoroughly and also spoken about the common mistakes done by the researcher in writing a paper. During publication how Journals’ space are used to utilized and minimize the wastage of space was taught by him. This lecture was a full proof outline for research paper publication.

Other faculty members of Asutosh College Prof. Sajal Bhattacharya of Zoology Department, Prof. Avik Kundu of Geology Department had joined the lecture. Prof. Kapil Ghosh of Diamond Harbour University was among the enthusiastic participant of that day.

