Brief Report.

The program titled ‘Shaktirupeno: Unleashing the power within’, organised by Akashvani Kolkata on 5th March, was an insightful and inspiring event focused on women empowerment. The event featured a thought provoking panel discussion followed by an engaging open auditorium quiz competition and dance drama. The esteemed panellist f the program were actor, classical dancer and social activist Alokanda Roy, Padmasree Awardee Pritikona Goswami, Actor and Film maker Sudeshna Roy, and Former director of gender studies of Visva Bharati University Prof. (Dr.) Sabujkoli Sen. Each panelist shared their perspectives on gender equality, women’s rights, and the challenges women face in different spheres of life. The discussion emphasized the need for education, financial independence, and policy-level interventions to create an equitable society. The engaging conversation captivated the audience, providing them with valuable insights and motivation. Following the discussion, an open auditorium quiz competition as held, adding an interactive and competitive element to the event. Trisha Roy and Shreyashee Maity, students of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication and Smt. Shikhi Chatterjee, Faculty of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication of Asutosh College grabbed three prizes by answering correctly. Their achievement highlighted their keen awareness and understanding of women’s empowerment and its significance in modern society.
