➤ BRIEF REPORT ABOUT THE EVENT/ PROGRAMME:

The research is currently in the process of data collection and preliminary analysis. Initial insights suggest that [initial findings]. Further data analysis will confirm these trends and provide more comprehensive results. The research problem revolves around understanding its strategies and its impact on related industrial and software world. Hands-on workshops on data analysis using software tools like DATA SCIENCE and R. Panel discussions on the ethical considerations in research. Interactive sessions on developing research proposals and grant writing. Presentation of innovative research methods and tools by experts.

➤ EXPECTED OUTCOME:

- The event successfully achieved its objectives, with participants gaining valuable insights into research methodologies. The hands-on workshops and interactive sessions were particularly well-received. Participants provided positive feedback, highlighting the practical applications of the knowledge gained.
- Trends and patterns: Discovery of emerging trends or patterns in research topic which could help informs future research or practical applications.
- Practical recommendations: Clear, actionable recommendations based on findings that can influence decision-making processes in [industry, policy, etc].
